Young couple, seventeen
So in love, swept off their feet
Parents fought it they did not approve
Said they're too young they're gonna lose.

One day he got on his knee
He said I know we're young, but would you marry me?
One night by the light of the moon
She climbed out of her window.

And they ran away together on a southbound train
Said their vows by the light of day
Time was all they had on their side
And the train rolled on into the night.

She didn't have a wedding gown, she didn't have a ring
But he was all she'd ever need
Into the night they snuck away
And they got married the next day.

They stayed together until they were old & gray
Ever since 1922 when they ran away...
