Should I leave, should I stay?
Should I try to walk away?
From you tonight
Without a fight

Like a wound that will not heal
I cannot change the way I feel
For you tonight
Oh, how I've tried

Too many tear drops, too many heartaches
Too many pieces on the floor
Too much is broken, too much was taken
Too many things I can't ignore
I just can't love you anymore

Should we give it one more try
Even though it's just a lie
We tell ourselves
Just one more time

I forgot the reasons why
You once were always on my mind
I think it's time
To say goodbye

Too many tear drops, too many heartaches
Too many pieces on the floor
Too much is broken, too much was taken
Too many things I can't ignore
I just can't love you anymore

Too many tear drops, too many heartaches
Too many pieces on the floor
Too much is broken, too much was taken
Too many things I can't ignore
I just can't love you anymore
I just can't love you anymore
