Mind the gap between you and me One more step and we're too close to see Who's you, who's me Who's you, who's me

You think you know
All i have to show
You think you've heard
Every word of my song
But you might be wrong
And i might be wrong
When i think i can tell
All your cares and dreams

It's not what it seems

I know i don't know All you want to show I know i don't know Every line of your song

I don't want to love 'Cause it would be wrong

I mind the gap between you and me I step back, i want to see Who's you, who's me Who's you, who's me

I mind the gap between you and me I step back, 'cause i want to see

Who's you, who's me
