There's got to be a way that I can dream
Simply close my eyes and see
The worlds I've never known
What places that my soul has been

Sometimes I need to run away and hide
And soar above the clouds and ride
I sail along so high
Till nothing's in my sky
Except the stars that fill my eyes

(Chorus)
And I will live for love
Where ever it may lead
It's written from the start
I know it's face by heart
I will live for love

I'm searching for the one who holds the key
To all this crazy life I lead
Through galaxies in time
A solitary star that joins

Sometimes I need to close my eyes and breathe
Inhale what life's been given me
A passion to ignite
A flaming heart a' flight
I close my eyes
I breathe
I'm free

(Chorus)
And I will live for love
Where ever it may lead
It's written from the start
I know it's face by heart
I will live for love

The poet must have known
A lover of his own
"Cause that is when he wrote
Everything I felt for love

And I will fight for love in life and life in love
And I will hold to things above
I'm strong enough to slay the dragon dead and there

I will live for love

I'm taller than the sky
This dream will never die
So only know that I
I will live for love

The poet must have known
A lover of his own
That is when he wrote everything I felt for love
I will ever fight
I will live for life
I will live for love
