When you're walking alone can't fight the crowd and you're pushing the world behind you hold don't lose yourself in a crowded place or I doubt if I'll find you when you have found things were getting you down don't try to run away
just wait for me and baby you'll see we'll make it through the day

can't fight the heat and the people you meet aren't kind you just put your head out and take a step and there's no mountain we can't climb oh when you have cried and the things on your mind just seem to make you sad forget everything please come wiith me we'll laugh and we'll be glad

just wait for me and baby you'll see
through the day
