People, people wherever you are wake and listen
it won't take long
people, people wherever you are father wants to hear from you all It's a shame but it's no tragedy you've been gone much too long can't you see running scared please come back to me
Dieux vous appelle
Callin'
People, people wherever you are
wake and listen
there's still time to get in touch with me
Dieux vous appelle
This bulletin just in another story of a run-away child whose anguished father wants her back home if anyone has any information regarding her whereabouts please call this emergency number 432-8360
She contemplates just for a moment she turns again to get it straight takes the phone and dials the number just in time to hear him say It's a shame but it's no tragedy
please come back to me
Call people please call people please call
people please call

people please call
people please call , me Ooh call me
Dieux vous appelle
People, people wherever you are wake and listen it won't take long
father wants you to give him a call
People, people wherever you are
