I'm just a working girl
Just earning a living
When the city's waking up
I'm going home

Working the midnight shift
While my friends are all out
They've all gone out dancing
They're out having fun

I'm working that midnight shift
For that extra little something
The things that are out of my reach
I need so bad so bad, so bad I need

Seems like I'm always leaving
When all the others arrive
My body still carries on
But I'm dying inside

Working the midnight shift
While all my friends are out
They've all gone out dancing
They're out having fun

Working that midnight shift
For that extra little something
The things that are out of my reach
I need so bad I need so bad
Yes I need so bad

Oh my midnight turned off all
Midnight shift, midnight shift
Midnight shift, midnight shift
Midnight shift, midnight shift

I'm just a working girl
Just earning a living
When the city's waking up
I'm going home

Working the midnight shift

While my friends are all out
They've all gone out dancing
They're having fun

Midnight shift, midnight shift
(They're having fun)
Midnight shift, midnight shift
(They're having fun)
Midnight shift, midnight shift
(They're having fun)
