No matter how the wind may blow
Good times may come; good times may go
How wonderful when there's to know
That somebody cares for you.

Whenever days have cloudy skies
The world is seem to ease the eyes
Two lovers know love never dies
When somebody cares for you.

Somebody who will lead the way
Somebody who will turn to say
Follow me and take my hand
And you will surely hold his then

The world may seem unjust and bad
With all the dreams you never had
But love can take away the sad
When somebody cares for you.

No matter how the wind may blow
Good times may come; good times may go
How wonderful when there's to know
That somebody cares for you.

The world may seem unjust and bad
With all the dreams you never had
But love can take away the sad
When somebody cares for you.

The world may seem unjust and bad
With all the dreams you never had (FADES)
