When I was young I caught a snowflake in my hand of beautiful design
It melted after a brief existence in a whispers decline
Let us pretend we are not beasts of the field
Let us, Let us, Let us escape invisible cages Define risk and you will find they erase all the minds
By routines as wisdom is left for sages

I've got a better way to waste your life Seasons change, you know I'm right, seasons change

The artery of perception limits potential progress
The machine wears a suit made out of the unmotivated desireless
To the beholder at heart the ties of all choice, the risks of the wants
And opinions of voice can evade the overcast that obscures desire
I knock your ladder, who is the madder?
Reunite your mind to your soul of high(2x)(repeat chorus)

When earth was young she held a people in her hand of beautiful design
It melted after a brief existence in a whispers decline What's that sound? A crack of whip...in a future residing in nowhere?
Restraint of chain? The twisted maze of the murmurs insane?
The insects of greed swarming their next bite?
Lost centuries of dreams, slay the king and queen Reunite your mind
Reunite your mind to your soul of high(2x)

Place your suffering on the shelf of the victimized centuries Relieve your suffering, embed the bullet of hope deep in your chest, Lodged into your chest Educate your suffering, cleanse the bodies stacked centuries high Please my suffering, experience the breath that you have been given

Your life is only one, swimming in the seas of the unknown(2x)
Erase your view and lift a stone, realize that the future is your own
The perspective alone, life is only one
My life is only one, yeah
