Lift your arms let the wind blow inside.
Be yourself you've got nothing to hide.
You aren't shy no more, but you won't let me be your guy 'cause you're so shy.

When you toss in the night and can't sleep, and the sweat standing out on your cheeks....you'll remember me, but you were too
afraid to speak 'cause
you're so shy.
You're so shy... you're so shy you're so shy...

Child why can't you look me straight in the eye, yeah.
Don't you know you're as sweet as July?
I can see it easy, the blind man ain't that blind.
One sweet kiss from you girl, would surely blow my mind.
Shy... shy ...so shy

One fine day when you call out my name and we play
some of our kissing games, I won't tell a soul because I know you'd be ashamed 'cause you're so shy....
