And this is not the Way a Conversation works, no!
Yeah, I just can't believe you've lost it!
A couple of years ago it all seemed to make more sense
But today every argument's wasted
And every word is one too much - what happened to you'
Yeah, what about your good ideas?
I thought you had the masterplan to save the world,
Yeah but it seems there's no more tension here
And I wonder who you want to be

The fire fades away
And I know there's nothing left to say
I miss my friend from yesterday!
And I want to know when you've become so superficial
Yeah, so much for your revolution!
And your raised fist, it turned into a common handshake
Tell me where is the man with a mission?
Friend from yesterday (repeated)
Where are you?
