just say what's on your mind what'cha know about love you said our love would be you said you were my girlfriend some girl you turned out to be i guess you know about leaving loving and leaving me you left me for no reason but you led me to believe sometimes your life can crumble sometimes your soul might make a stumble but you can't drown in your sorrow cause you might be found you might be found tomorrow what'cha know about living when you've been treated like a queen but a queen don't know about giving i ain't looking to receive

i said, you might be found
you might be found tomorrow well, you might be found you might be found tomorrow (x3)
