Inspiration has got the worst of me again Lets think this over, think this through nothing's easy, nothing except you.
Bending over and over again

Believe me when I tell you
The words I say are true
And everything you say
Means nothing new
Because its all been said and done

Start over, made this brand new there nothing left to hold on to understanding, is just to much for me to take you keep pushing to my brain

Believe me when I tell you
The words I say are true
And everything you say
Means nothing new
Because its all been said and done

Believe me when I tell you
The words I say are true
And everything you say
Means nothing new
