I know it's crazy to think that your ever coming back
But just maybe, you might be on your way.
And I know Im stronger without you, ever coming back,
(but) I'll take weak me with you any day.

Wish I had the strength too keep you from running out,
no nothings changed
All this time Ive been missing someone who didn't care your still the same.

Wake me, when it's over, you'll see, were just starting again

And all the constant reminders, of every way you've changed,
The little things that bring me back to you,
I'm still here, beside you ,thinking of the days
You told me one thing, you never told the truth

Wish I had the strength too keep you from running out,
no nothings changed
All this time Ive been missing someone who didn't care
your still the same.

Wake me, when it's over, you'll see, were just starting
again

Can't Fool myself so easy, don't let me go im reaching, just say you'll wait
For me forever.
