This time my time, which is at hand.
Righteous believers walk across this land.
Speak the word, my word, which is sin.
In your time the passages have all been read.

Disciples who follow meÂ...take you down.

People wonder if I exist.
Christen my child first thing on my list.
Some weak some strong all in need.
You forsake me then watch you bleed.

Disciples who follow meÂ...take you down.
Disciples who follow meÂ...take you now.

I don't listen to the war that rages in my head. Powers that are over me are sure to see me dead.
For the broken promises and debts I never paid.
Lessons that are lost on me I carry to my grave.

Now my children bow and pray.
Feel my power do not stray.
Look to me do not turn.
If you do your soul will burn.

Disciples who follow meÂ...take you down.
Disciples who follow meÂ...take you now.
