He's Cadillac Jack Favor and the name rings true
If he's got a ride any stranger would too
The one bad habit that his Ponder would say Is sure gonna put him through the trials one day
And that's just what happened he took pity on two men Heading down to Louisiana, he stopped and let them in
And the thanks he did for helping them
Would make him wish he was busting bronses again

He dropped them off in Bossier City where they met up with a man
That vagabond committee barely even had a plan
It was just a simple robbery turned double homicide
They got away with murder it'd be someone else's hide

Almost two years come and gone they never solved that crime
'Til they found one of our vagabonds already doing time
When that jailbird started singing they all knew the words were wrong
But the sheriff and the DA and the judge all sang along They pinned it on Jack Favor, gave him life without parole
Gave Jack's freedom to the jailbird, payment on the lies he told
Just so happens that election year everybody payed out at the polls

Cadillac's no fallen hero and he's never gonna break
When it comes to prison rodeo, there'll be no easy eight
And if you want the definition of the picture-perfect frame
It'd be in the dictionary underneath Jack Favor's name

Cadillac's no fallen hero and he's never gonna break
When it comes to prison rodeo, there's still no easy
eight
And if you want the definition of the picture-perfect
frame
It'd be in the dictionary underneath Jack Favor's name

Yeah, it's the world's most crooked picture and when it comes to being framed Cadillac Jack Favor should be in the hall of fame
