"Failing Amber"

I'm tired of your constant blame for not being like you
Not everyone is perfect as easy to see through Enough of a dying flame to burn a hole in my heart
No one told me when to begin so how do I start
Is it worth waiting for to redefine yourself
Is it worth waiting?
I know that I am alright because I am still breathing
Two thousand reasons to make sure I'm leaving
Think of all your answers then write me back this fall
But please don't send me questions because I can't take anymore
