Everytime I go to bed
I hear the voices in my head
They say, "What about me?"
Everytime I feel the way I feel
I just don't know what I should do
What about you?

What about you, what about me
What about everything?
What about you, what about me
What about everything?

Round and round and round we go
And where it stops I really do not know
What do I know
Well, I was fine but now today
I feel the way I feel and that's okay
Well, it's okay

What about you, what about me
What about everything?
What about you, what about me
What about everything?

What about me and you?
Well, everything is overwhelming
What do I say and do?
Well, everything is overwhelming

What about me and you?
Well, everything is overwhelming
What do I say and do?
Ahh, what the fuck's it to you

What about you, what about me
What about everything?
What about you, what about me
What about everything?

What about you, what about me
What about everything?
What about you, what about me

What about everything?

What about you, what about me
What about everything?
What about you, what about me
What about everything?

What about me and you?
Well, everything is overwhelming
What do I say and do?
Well, everything is overwhelming

What about me and you?
Well, everything is overwhelming
What do I say and do?
I'm not like you, I'm not like you
What do I say and do?
I'm not like you

What about you, what about me
(What about me and you?)
What about everything?
(I'm not like you)
What about you, what about me
(What do I say and do?)
What about everything?
(I'm not like you)
