Every time you call
You can't imagine what it's like
I'm getting chills
I hear your voice each time

And every time we talk
I get shivers down my spine
I can't deny
You're always on my mind

I never had this feeling, never so strong before
With every day, I want you more
I can't stop believing, can't stop dreaming
Oh God, I wish I would know

What can take me into your heart?
What can I do?
Would you help me from falling apart?
Is my love enough for you? Enough for you

Everywhere I go
I wish you would pass me by
I keep on waiting for you anytime

And every night I pray
You would think of me sometimes
Hope I could move your heart
Your soul, your mind

Would it really matter if I knew you better
Oh, would you know which way to go
I can't stop believing, can't stop dreaming
It's you or no one in this world

What can take me into your heart?
What can I do?
Would you help me from falling apart?
Is my love enough for you? Enough for you

Never had this feeling, never so strong before
With every day I want you more
No, I can't stop believing, can't stop dreaming

Oh God, I wish I would know

What can take me into your heart?

What can I do?

Would you help me from falling apart

Is my love enough for you?

Oh, what can take me into your heart?

Tell me, what can I do?

Would you help me from falling apart?

Is my love enough for you? Enough for you
