you carry on your lips a lie and kiss me with it's sadness the lie is that you'll say good-bye that nothing ever mattered
please don't say that i lost all the things you once loved all the things i once had turned to shadows and sand please don't say that it's wrong that your love can't go on please don't kiss me good-bye please don't let our love die
you can say you don't believe in love you say it isn't true that you won't look me in the eyes after what i did to you
loved please don't kiss me good-bye thinking love's just a lie please don't say that it's wrong that your love can't go on please don't kiss me good-bye please don't let
solo

sand please don't say that it's wrong that your love through and gone please don't kiss me good-bye please don't let our love die
