"It Kills Me"

It is the darker side of every soul
That I was desperately attracted to
But it's over... over... over...
Cause I know now... know now... know now...

That it is lovely and powerful
And that this liason is naturally doomed
And it somehow... somehow... somehow...
Turned me inside out

And now I'm running, I've seen it coming
That these hands will never let me go
And yeah I love it, yeah I want it
But I don't wanna loose

It will kill me, your love will kill me
It just kills me, this romance, sweet and dark
Kills my heart, breaks my heart

And it creeps up on me most every night
I feel your spell on me so deep inside
And it haunts me... haunts me... haunts me...
I can't take it... take it... take it...

You're so mean and dark and beautiful
I can't resist, can't take my eyes off you
And you're like a drug... drug... drug...
And you drive me crazy... crazy... crazy...

And I can't take it, and I can't fake it
That you're still so wrapped around my soul
And yeah I'm loving, yeah I want it
But I don't wanna loose

It will kill me, your love will kill me
It just kills me, this romance, sweet and dark
It kills my heart, kills my heart
