Forgotten miles below the surface through catacombs of stone in moss covered tunnels labyrinthine are the shadows in which we do roam in bondage kept the vessels the living breathing beasts hosts to a meal most exquisite the very blood their veins do keep herding them in, forcibly reproduced impatience to sink our fangs in deep rarely transcending youth a farm of human beings inbred the speechless stock sightless eyes vestigial now never to know the glowing sun shepard them in violently consumed in captivity so fearfully to become this evenings food

blood mine
feed on the weaklings
blood mine
harvest this nectar of life
blood mine
cyclic devourment over ages perfected your earth is protected for now our curse must be sated somehow a secret best kept underground destroy, create manacled, skin grey vampiric we feast the bigger the mortal the harder they bleed in bondage kept the vessels the living breathing beasts hosts to a meal most exquisite the very blood their veins do keep

feed on the weaklings
blood mine
harvest this nectar of life
blood mine
cyclic devourment over ages perfected your earth is protected for now
