She said I'm doing alright,
I just thought I'd check in,
Ya know it's been such a long time,
Where do I begin?
I've thought about you,
A thousand times in the past,
And you've lived in my memory and the moments that last.
And as the clock ticked
And you brought me to speed,
My mind started racing
I wondered where it would lead.
From a touch to a whisper
To a quick stolen kiss.
We got lost in the memories and got lost in the bliss

It's so good to be back home.
You've always been my home.

Well I'm feeling alright.
So I'm writing this down
As you sit by the window
With your sunshining crown
I'm gonna give you
A little piece of my soul
With all the shameless cliché's
I hope you won't let it go.
There will come a time
When we look back upon this
As a smile crosses your lips
I know you're taking it in
And in the meantime,
I hope you're feeling this in you.
And it's growing within you
Until you can't hold it in.

It's so good to be back home.
You've always been my home.

And time can't erase the scars that can't disappear
But as I lay here beside you,

I forgot they were there.
So we'll get through tomorrow and whatever happens
then,
Because I know I can go home again.

It's so good to be back home.
You've always been my home.
It's so good to be back home.
You'll always be my home
