I won't say he won't ever stumble
But I'm clinging to my baby's hand
I won't say he won't bring me trouble
But I won't say I won't understand

I won't say he'll love me forever
'Cause forever is a long, long time
But I will say he will never ever say
She was never time

Tomorrow could be forever away
Still I'd love him no less than I love him today
So tonight sleep will find me while it still can
Just clinging to my baby's hand

I won't say he won't ever stumble
But I'm clinging to my baby's hand
I won't say he won't bring me trouble
But I won't say I won't understand

I won't say he'll love me forever
'Cause forever is a long, long time
But I will say he will never ever say
She was never time

Tomorrow could be forever away
Still I'd love him no less than I love him today
So tonight sleep will find me while it still can
Just clinging to my baby's hand
