(Alex Harvey)

I like to hear the rain when you're lying by my side
When I'm dreaming pretty dreams of you and me
I like to hear the rain when I'm locked inside your arms
And you know you will always have the key.

And someday when we're growing old
You will hold me just the way you do today
Someday when today is long ago
It will be so sweet remembering the way
We shared our love today.

--- Instrumental ---

I like to hear the rain in the stillness of the night
As we lay beside the fire so soft and warm
I like to hear the rain when our bodies are both one
And I know with you I'm safe from any storm.

And someday when we're growing old
We'll make love the way we do today
Someday when our baby's on his own
It will be so sweet remembering the way
We shared our love today.

And someday when we're growing old
We'll make love the way we do today
Someday when our baby's on his own
It will be so sweet remembering the way
We shared our love today...
