(Clyde Otis - Dorian Burton)

Let's not fight it anymore
Unpack the bags close the door
I'll never leave you
Though you lied right from the start
I can't convince my foolish heart
Not to believe you.

You've got other loves strung out
And there's not the slightest doubt
That other loves have loved you before
But you do your thing so well
I'll dream of heaven and live in hell
Till I can't take it anymore.

If I had one ounce of pride
I'd stand up or step aside
But I still love you
So I'll accept the crumbs you drop
'Cause I'm a fool and I can't stop
Or rise above you.

While you're making up your mind
I'll be praying all the time
Praying that you won't be letting me go
But you do your thing so well
I'll dream of heaven and live in hell
Till I can't take it anymore.

While you're making up your mind
I'll be praying all the time
Praying that you won't be letting me go
But you do your thing so well
I'll dream of heaven and live in hell
Till I can't take it anymore...
