

Dottie West"Too Much of Me Loving You"

Visit "Too Much of Me Loving You" on MotoLyrics.com

(Jan Crutchfield - Johnny Slate)

Last night I almost told someone a lie
But that's when I felt your mem'ry come alive
So there's just no chance of finding someone new
'Cause there's much too much of me still loving you.

I wish that I could close my eyes and see
What keeps holding on so deep inside of me
Then the tear that finds my cheek gives me the clue
That there's much too much of me still loving you.

There's much too much of me still not free
And there's much too much of you still holding on to me
I'd be satisfied just knowing that we're through
But there's much too much of me still loving you.

--- Instrumental ---

That there's much, too much of me
Still loving you
I'd be satisfied just knowing that we're through
But there's much, too much of me still loving you...

Visit Dottie West page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.