Its not what you say, you know it's not enough
You think that you can take, you think i'll give in first

You say it's nothing, i build it all up in my mind

Its not what you say, i know how you lie You think you can wash away, the blood of all your crimes

You take you think you can, i bleed for what i can't you take you think you can, this is all i have

You say it's nothing, i build it all up in my mind

Waking and i'm sore, pulling out the thorns i lay it on the line, wake and you will find...

I just want things to change, it's not all right

take you think you can, this is all i have

You say it's nothing, i build it all up in my mind
You say it's nothing

take you think you can, this is all i have
