Verse 1:

You called me from the office to say you're working late
Well I admire your dedication but where's the extra pay?
I meet you at the front door with wine on your breath
I couldn't help but notice there's a button off your dress
Say you and your girlfriends just stopped to eat a bite
Well I was born in the dark but it wasn't last night

Verse 2:

Friday I came home and you was lookin fit to kill Said you're going to your sisters cause your sisters feeling ill
I called her house all weekend just to see if she was fine
I never got an answer musta called a hundred times
She suddenly got better ya'll took in all the sites
I was born in the dark but it wasn't last night

Chorus:

Hey sweet baby I'm no fool
There's something going on and it just ain't good
Well come on baby let's talk straight
You got one last chance and a choice to make

Say hey sweet baby I'm no fool
There's something going on and it just ain't good
So some on honey let's talk straight
You got one last chance and a choice to make

Verse 3:

Well I ask you why you never wear that purrty negligie
It seems that you misplaced it at least that's what you say
You think i made it up and I don't trust you anymore
But I found it in the trashcan and both the straps were tore
Don't remember how it happened was probably too tight
I was born in the dark but it wasn't last night

You tell me that you love me but I know it's just a lie
I was born in the dark but it wasn't last night
Tell the truth now
