I brushed by you in a crowd,
And almost went to pieces.
Just like I've done so many times before.
But this time I was lucky,
I pulled myself together.
It's a good thing I don't love you anymore.

(Chorus)

If I loved you anymore,
I never would have made it,
Through all the hurt your leaving put me through
I still love you just as much as I ever did before its a good thing
I don't love you any more.

I read some old love letters that told me you once
loved me,
then all night long I cried and walked the floor.
I still love you just as much as a man can love a woman.
its a good thing i don't love you anymore.
(Chorus)

Yes its a good thing i don't love you anymore.
