"The feeling never goes away" as sung by Doug Stone

Our eyes meet in the mirror as I watched you comb your hair.
I smile at you from my pillow thinking of the love we'll share.

And while our hearts are touching my lips move silently every time I say I love you this feeling comes over me

CHORUS

and darling the feeling never goes away your in my heart and that's where you'll stay Right here beside me until my dying day
Time after time whenever you take my hand
you prove to me that I'm one lucky man
and darling the feeling never goes away.

Passion overwhelms me as you turn out the lights your perfume whispers so softly make love to me tonight.

I turned back the covers you lay down by my side
And when I hold you close this way
I feel so satisfied.

and darling the feeling never goes away
you're in my heart and that's where you'll stay
Right here beside me until my dying day
Time after time whenever you take my hand
you prove to me that I'm one lucky man
and darling the feeling never goes away.

Darling the feeling never goes away
You're in my heart and that's where you'll stay
Right here beside me until my dying day
Music fades:::::THE END OF SONG:::::
