She knows it's time
To say goodbye
To all that she wanted
For all that she love.

Devotes her mind
To thoughts divine
For all that she needed
And all that she love.

Recites the lines
Repeats the rites
To all that she needed
And wanted most.

Won't you shine tonight,
In the face of the light.
With you on my mind,
I can make it through,
Make it through the night.

She bides her time
With quiet pride
For all that she wanted
And all that she love.

She begs and pleads
He's all she needs
And ever wanted
She calls out again.

Won't you shine tonight,
In the face of the light.
With you on my mind,
I can make it through,
Make it through the night.

She takes him in
On calloused knees
(But he's not there)
The emptiness is all she sees

So she begs and she pleads.

Won't you shine tonight?
In the face of the light?
With you
(With you on my mind,
I can make it through
With you on my mind I can make it)

Won't you shine tonight,
In the face of the light.
With you on my mind,
I can make it through,
Make it through the night.

Won't you shine and shine tonight.
Won't you shine in the face of the light.
With you on my mind,
I can make it though,
Make it through the night,
Through this night.
