Was just a little white lie
I had to tell
Just to make you understand
That you were trying too hard
To see a light
In the coldest, darkest night

Don't wanna hear or say
A word again
I've been fasting for days
Don't wanna know
How it feels to lay down in
Someone else's bed

Was just a little white lie
I had to tell
Just to make you understand
That you were trying too hard
To see a light
In the coldest, darkest night

A word again
I've been fasting for days
Don't wanna know
How it feels to lay down in
Someone else's bed
