"ANGEL"

I used to face the sun, hoping that the warmth would fill me up
But all I felt was cold and low, it was all I'd ever known Get back the faith I'd lost, I denied myself the need to see
I was tired and weary, run down and blue I couldn't see clearly, I opened my mind, then came you... my angel

There just ain't no reason to suffer because there's you
Miles and miles of you
Then there's you
Miles and miles of you

All the people I thought I loved, they turned their backs on me
I can't believe I let them walk, let them walk all over me Respect, I never got it, playing with my mind I'd lost my way, I couldn't see, I was blind and confused, temporarily

And then came you
Miles and miles of you
Then there's you
Miles and miles of you

etc
