

Doves

"Sky Starts Falling"

Visit "Sky Starts Falling" on MotoLyrics.com

Who am I supposed to be?

I can't be sure that the next one will see me
And if the sky starts falling on the street outside
The only thing that satisfies
If the sky starts falling on the heads outside
The only thing that keeps me alive

Be sure to send my love
If you see her again, be sure to say hello
Did she seem like before
Could you seem above it all
Be sure to send my love

Wake up, waking up to see
That what will be will be
It's a sign

And if the sky starts falling on the street outside
If the sky starts falling on the heads outside
The only thing that satisfies
The only thing that keeps me alive
I swear I heard her call, call my name

If you see her again, be sure to say hello
I swear I heard her call, can I move on
Be sure to send my love
Did she seem like before
Be sure to send my love
Can't you see above it all

I swear I heard her call, can I move on
I swear I heard her call, call my name
Did she call herself a friend?

Don't call on me again, don't call on me again
Did she seem above it all
Did she seem like before
Be sure to send my love

Visit Doves page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
