

Doves

"the cedar room"

Visit "the cedar room" on MotoLyrics.com

Son what have you done? you're caught by the river you're coming undone life you know it can't be so easy but you can't just leave it 'cause you're not in control anymore and you give it all away would you give it all away now?
don't let it come apart
don't want to see you come apart son what are you doing? you learned a hard lesson when you stood by the water you and i were so full of love and hope would you give it all up now? would you give in just to spite them all?
and you give it all away
would you give it all away now?
don't let it come apart
don't want to see you come apart cause you give it all away and you give it all away now
don't let it come apart
don't want to see you come apart lay i lay in the long grass so many people
so many people pass stay stay here and lie on back get down in the cornfields stay till we're caught at last give it all away give it all away now
don't let it come apart
don't want to see you come apart
and you give it all away
you give it all away now
don't let it come apart
don't want to see you come apart
and you give it all away

