

Down By Law "Burning Heart"

Visit "Burning Heart" on MotoLyrics.com

Every now and then
I feel this place is going down
I'll catch the next train into town

There's romance on the streets tonight
And every lonely hearts alright
And I think that I could find my way
If I could find my way to you

So many pathways I have roamed
Will I ever feel at home?
So many streets for a burning heart
But fewer roads to get a brand new start

I think that I could find my way
If I could find my way to you
I'm looking forward to not looking back
Trying to find a way to get on track

Sitting in this room all by myself
Oh lonely boy, what you gonna do?

Every now and then I feel
I'm a burning heart in a place where nothing's real
Pouring rain all around me but I don't care
Have you got a hope for me to steal?

Visit Down By Law page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.