Now this life is a wonderful thing
See the world go a million miles
Faces come and go like the tide
On a summer day or a lonely night

But everyone is telling you
What to do with your life
Just escape and breathe free
Daydream of a girl I used to know

So many memories have slipped away
Thinking a million thoughts an hour
Waiting for the waves to take me away

They say somewhere is a path
That's marked out just for you
Well I hope someday our paths will cross
When I lie awake at night I still see only you
