

Down By Law "Straw"

in the midst of changing times I look around and fear unknowns fear changes in my mind we're seeing all this change we're hearing promises but will these changing days mean a bright new tomorrow?
In my mind
in my mind it's all the same when assumptions of the past come crumbling down like berlin walls and everything we thought would last becomes nothing at all evil empires fade away and all the fears we knew dissolve
mean a bright new tomorrow?
In my mind
it's all the same and if I close my eyes then I can see the world
