Try to understand who I am
My pops is an intelligent black man
My mom's locked up in S I B I brand, damn
It's like they're handing me planned positional placement

Inheritance parents mistaken left my soul aching Hurting painful let downs are burning fire inside
Fire inside's is what I got right
Unjustified lies, life died so I picked up a mic
Microphone the danger curse

This earth's done got them tears dripping
Lifetime of decline got me blind to the real sign
Running around helpless, selfish Direction less spiritual savior get me flexin' that will to live

Horriying, horriying

Shot one, shot one
Tell them how your soul fell
Closet bigotry insecurity
I see from the ones closest to me
I see this disease

Complexion sways your mental direction
Privilege culture subliminal racist
Stereotypical walk and mythical lies must go Prejudging human beings that you are seeing Millions of 'Mark Fuhrmans' within my midst
But flesh does not determine what is within
