They say the city never sleeps but I Still feel alone but farther down Between sucksess and human sacrifice
I find I'm not made for man or god

Cause theres tension in the air comin down the reason a little man hangin from the ceiling my own reflection tells me don't look down and I've been hangin out just a bit too long drawn to this feelin like a fly to a lightbulb fool of the ages caught in a cruel song

drawn to this feelin like a fly to a lightbulb and I've been hangin out just a bit to long they say that everybody's got a right I feel so lost they most be wrong

Between the morning and her sleeping eyes
I cant see blindly through the smile
