"So Called Humanity"

We crowned ourselves to this throne,
But while you hear me, I am accusing, blaming our species,
Our need for acting destructive, our will of bringing fear,
The so called humanity we express in war
There's a necessity for stupidity,
Lying in our genomes
'Cause otherwise I cannot figure out
Why we have to always act like still living in caves
I am blaming you for standing in the first row,
Watching children die,
I am blaming you - downloading expressive violent videos
Without wasting one electric impulse from your brain

With thinking of backgrounds
You just take the offer for granted
Well then take it to your brain and make it die
There's a necessity for stupidity,
Lying in our genomes
'Cause otherwise I cannot figure out
Just try to imagine, only for a second, what it would be like...
Doing anything you're not expected to do and help
Improving social relationships...
Well, fuck off
