We practice what we see
A distant memory
Back when we believed the sky was closer

It's shady on the bright side
Careful where you step
The floor is lined with broken dreams and shattered hearts

We'll light the way
So you can see
What we're made of
Throw off the stones and plant the seed
So you can make it on your own

Take the tools to justify what we believe in
The things you need are a stone's throw away
Keep your eyes opened wide
Walk ahead and let your heart pour out

We'll light the way
So you can see
What we're made of
Throw off the stones and plant the seed
So you can make it on your own
