Well I thought I had a love forever that she was the one for me.
Life was sweet, I had everything
We were happy as could be
But today she took me by surprise with a note up on my door
And the words she wrote still haunt my mind "Sayin'
I don't love you anymore."

Blow blow whistle blow
Engineer let those big wheels roll
Farther on down the track
I don't know where I am bound
I just got to get out of this town
Where she stops nobody knows
So blow whistle blow.

Now I've lived and learned and let me say "Take it from me cause I've been there"
That true love it don't come easy
And sometimes it just aint fair.
So before you give your heart away
And you lay it on the line
Make sure you've got a one way ticket on ole heart break number nine

So before you give your heart away
And you lay it on the line
Make sure you've got a one way ticket
on ole heart break number nine

Blow blow whistle blow
Engineer let those big wheels roll
Farther on down the track
I don't know where I am bound
I just got to get out of this town
Where she stops nobody knows
So blow whistle blow.

Where she stops nobody knows

So blow whistle blow.
