Lovin' you, lovin' you,
Seems that's all I ever want to do
You went and turned your back on me
I packed my bags and had to leave
I can't believe I'm still in love with you

The hardest thing I've tried to do
Is try and keep from loving you
I don't think it's ever gonna be
You have got my heart and soul
Wish that you were mine to hold
Even though I know you don't love me

I close my eyes and all I see
Are memories of when you loved me
Your heart is locked, and I don't have the key
So I'll keep tryin' to forget
Maybe some day time will let
My heart heal and once again be free
