Whatever I have I owe it to friends
With every one of you my heart blends
My needs are fulfilled with friends around
For little I require I receive abound
Whatever I ask for some one sends
With every one of you my heart blends
Whatever I have I owe it to friends
With every one of you my heart blends
Whenever I feel a spider under glove
I make a summon to you in the name of love
You people never rest till my trouble ends
With every one of you my heart blends
Whatever I have I owe it to friends
With every one of you my heart blends
My friends are boats my friends are my car
The moment I get thirsty they become my bar
Always in happy mood my story ends
With every one of you my heart blends
Whatever I have I owe it to my friends
With every one of you my heart blends
