Pain is nothing if you numb it
Overcome it and love it
Forced to focus when my head is in the clouds
And there's a lot things important to see
But I've accepted that it's nothing to me
Nothing to me at all
And all is well down here in hell
And all is well down here in hell
And I could use a little company
'Cause all is well down here with me
If you ferment it then I'll swallow the sea
'Cause I could use a little company
'Cause all is well down here in hell
'Cause all is well down here in hell
'Cause all is well down here in hell
Big sleep, big sleep
Big sleep, my future's written for me
[Incomprehensible]
No sleep, I think my vices finally got the best of me
Big sleep, big sleep
And to the bar owners I'll be the chosen one
Because they know me as a drinker's son
And to the bar owners I'll be the chosen one
And to the bar owners I'll be the chosen one
Because they know me as a drinker's son
But I have failed him and I will fail you
An endless cycle and it's only just fucking begun, begun
And to the bar owners I'll be the chosen one
Because they know me as a drinker's son
And to the bar owners I'll be the chosen one
