I'm living, a Second life, peace and freedom, in my mind
In this life, just at begining, there's for me, only a solution

In the layers of my subconciuous, I see some deads
My body is divided in two parts

I'm suspended in the air, I haven't a weight Strange imagines and magic visions, around me

I'm a spirit I haven't a body and shape Up on my soul, I see the white, the deep, the pure and rarefied sky

Now I'm inside the darkness Under control of the evil's eyes
Trying to make a thing through my ideals Opening the frontiers for the living deads!

The time is stopped now, I haven't a sensation of age Saint sand sinners are walking around me, wicked angels above my head!

Stars and meteorites through my eyes, Strange human being in the air All objects are grey in the night, Spectral world in my mind!
