(wilko johnson)

Went out walking I recall
Me and my best girl along the wall
In the long grass side by side
Where the big ships go gliding by, go gliding by Skylark singing in the sun
Something told me she's the one
When I looked down into her eyes
I saw pictures of paradise... of paradise... of paradise

Everynight you look so mean
Staring at your tv screen
Back when we where seventeen
You turned me around irene irene

When the days got colder time went by Dark cloud rising into the sky
I just sat there gazing on
Like a tower of babylon... of babylon
I went wandering far from home
Left my good girl all on her own
I went back there she got the power
See me through my darkest hour... my darkest hour... my darkest hour

Everynight you look so mean
Staring at your tv screen
I got lost inside a dream
You brought me back irene irene

People talking but they don't know
Where I've been to or where I'll go
World keep turning all things change
I love two girls I ain't ashamed... I ain't ashamed
All your loving it thrills me so
I can't go with you I just can't go
A thousand highways you don't live twice
Only one road to paradise... to paradise... to paradise

Everynight you look so mean

Staring at your tv screen
Thinkin about what might have been
I'll love you still irene irene
