Day after day as I bodies slay
And the sun becomes dark in the sky
Everything's lost for this human race
And the dawn of a new age will rise

Rays of sunlight now are gone
Only visions of ice will remain
The fallen ones and forgotten souls
Will rise up over the slain

No more hope
As we raise our hands to the sky
No more dreams
As the rivers run dry

Everything's lost, all is left astray
Only sorrow and sadness remains
Curtains have dropped on our fallen world
And the forces of darkness shall rise

Why can't you see what has happened to thee?
Can you not open your eyes?
Everything's lost, there is no retreat
And the valleys echo with pain

No more hope
As we raise our hands to the sky
No more dreams
As the rivers run dry

On the endless seas of madness, we sail forever more
And the endless tears of sadness towards the distant
shores
When the flame has died forever we stand one and all
With the power of the almighty sword

We fight the battle on the fields tonight
To save us from the master of all evil sign
And to the battle on, forever standing strong
We feel the fire power of the night warriors

No more tomorrow

Dying of sorrow
Over the mountains and up through the trees
Traveling across seven seas

No more hope
As we hold our hands to the sky
No more dreams
As the rivers run dry

On the endless seas of madness, we sail forever more
And the endless tears of sadness towards the distant
shores
When the flame has died forever we stand one and all
With the power of the almighty sword

We fight the battle on the fields tonight
To save us from the master of all evil sign
And to the battle on, forever standing strong
We feel the fire power of the night warriors

On the endless seas of madness, we sail forever more
And the endless tears of sadness towards the distant
shores
When the flame has died forever we stand one and all
With the power of the almighty sword

We'll fight the battle on the fields tonight
To save us from the master of all
We fight the battle on the fields tonight
To save us from the master of all evil sign

And to the battle on, forever standing strong
We feel the fire power of the night warriors
The power of the night warriors
